Mrs. Hill was an English teacher at the new middle school I attended in the eighth grade. She wasn't my teacher but I loved being around her and enjoyed her kindness. She was also a good listener.

At the end of the year, she was moving to Florida, and I was sad. We exchanged addresses and became pen friends. I could tell her anything, and she treated me with respect even though I was a schoolboy.

In Florida, Mrs. Hill became a lawyer, but she managed to find time to write me letters. She wrote amusing stories and always took my concerns seriously. She had given me an invitation to visit.

I accepted it immediately, I spent three weeks with her in Miami. Her love of music and creative writing inspired me.

Two years later, Mrs. Hill surprised me by attending my high school graduation ceremony. Later that year, my family decided to spend Christmas in Florida and I couldn't wait to see her again. When I arrived at her house, I had hoped to talk to her about school, but instead she was in a hospital bed. She had cancer. A month after we got back home, we were shocked to hear that Mrs. Hill had passed away.

To this day, more than 50 years later, whenever I read her letters again, thinking about the advice she gave me, I still remember the importance of her smile and her friendship. For me, she is a respected teacher forever!

26. Why did the writer feel sad in the eighth grade?

- A. Mrs. Hill wasn't his English teacher.
- B. Mrs. Hill was moving to Florida.
- C. Mrs. Hill never wrote to him.
- D. Mrs. Hill became a lawyer.

27. How long did the writer stay with Mrs. Hill in Miami?

- A. Three weeks.
- B. A month.
- C. One year.
- D. Two years.

28. In Miami, the writer was inspired by _____.

- A. stories told by Mrs. Hill
- B. The graduation ceremony
- C. the exchange of their addresses
- D. Mrs Hill's love of music and creative writing

29. What does the underlined phrase "passed away" in Paragraph 4 mean?

- A. Died.
- B. Recovered.
- C. Got back.
- D. Gone out.

30. What would be the best title for the text?

- A. A Visiting Invitation
- B. A Successful Lawyer
- C. Skills of Making Pen Friends
- D. Memories of a Respected Teacher

第二节(共 5 小题; 每小题 2 分, 满分 10 分)

根据短文内容, 从短文后的选项中选出能填入空白处的最佳选项。选项中有两项为多余选项。

Some people believe that memory problems are the result of bad habits. To improve your memory, you must break your bad habits and develop good ones. 31.

- Stay mentally active.

Exercising your mind is the best way to keep it sharp. 32, then it will become difficult for you to depend on your memory to solve challenging problems.

- Read more.

33 When you read, you have to actively use your memory to recognize words and arrange them into phrases, then sentences, and then ideas. It is a good mental workout(训练).

- 34.

Whenever you are reading, studying, or listening to a speech, write down the information you may want to look up later. In the process of writing down what you have read or heard, you are actually organizing information. Needless to say, taking notes is an excellent mental workout as well.

- Teach others what you know.

When it comes to remembering things or skills you have learned, few things are better than teaching. This is because teaching requires reviewing what you have learned and expressing what you know. 35 the longer your knowledge and skills will stay with you.

What matters more than these tips is to find out what works best for you.

- A. Here are some tips for you
- B. Get into the habit of taking notes
- C. Move on to the other TV programs
- D. If you always avoid mental challenges
- E. The more often you teach other people
